[He was a son of John Anderson, of Maidenhead, and inherited by his father's will, 258 acres on the Delaware River above Trenton. This plantation was sold by the Sheriff, by deed, dated Mar. 9, 1776, to Lambert Cadwalader (Lib. A. T. of Deeds, p. 354, Secy. of State's Office.); and is now [1941] that part of the City of Trenton, as between Overbrook and Parkside Aves., along the river, and extends in area from the river back to the branch line of the Reading Co. railroad.

Ephraim Anderson probably died during the war, as his wife, Rezine (Lovell), became the wife of Ephraim Harris of Fairfield, Cumberland Co., prior to 1786, as the said Ephraim Harris, naming his wife, Rezine, dated his will Oct. 21, 1786, and it was proved Dec. 27, 1794. Therefore, Rezine Harris did not probate and swear to the will of her first husband (Ephraim Anderson), until about 2 years after the decease of her second husband.

[This will is an example of inadequately expressed relationship as between testatrix and legatees, and that which is given in the will is so stated that it may very easily be misinterpreted. And although the compiler by previous research knows the existing or "true" relationships as between the said testatrix and her legatees, he, however, is not at liberty to insert them in the abstract of the will (the abstract only giving the relationship as stated by the will); therefore, the will is not only one which requires careful analysis, but is one which further explanation may be of value and interest. The term "cousin" as frequently used at this time did not always infer the same relationship as is understood by the use of that term of relationship today. In the case of this will the term "cousin" implies "nephew." The testatrix in will, shows she is known as "Aunt Wells," to Samuel, Joseph, Jeams, John and Tomas Lovell; and then, thereafter, names, first, her "cousin" Samuel Lovell, as Executor, and then 2nd, her "cousin" Jeams Lovell, as Executor. In other words, the 2 said executors are the same men to whom she previously referred "as being their Aunt Wells." Also the will is so worded without due punctuation that it reads as though she was speaking of 4 sisters, which, however, is not true; but, nevertheless, to quote exactly the will reads "and as to my furniture I leve it to be devided between my sisters, Deborah Ayers Resine harris Sarah Wright Rachel jenkings.And likewise all my waring appriall to be devided as they can agree." It so happens that the last 2 named, i.e., Sarah Wright and Rachel Jenkins, were nieces of the said testatrix but nowhere in the will is the term "niece" used. Only the first 2 named, i.e., Dorah Ayres and Rosine [Rezine] Harris were sisters of the said testatrix.

The said Rachel Wells was also a sister of the well known American sculptress, Patience (Lovell) Wright; and it was Rachel Wells who first instructed her sister, Patience, after her widowhood in 1769, in the art of wax sculpture. The Sarah Wright, referred to in this will as 'being too heedless for that business,' was the youngest daughter of Joseph and Patience (Lovell) Wright, (she was born after her father's decease); therefore the said Sarah was a niece of Rachel Wells, and not a 'sister' as the wording of the will would seem to imply.

The testatrix Rachel Wells, was a daughter of John and Patience (Townsend) Lovell, of Bordentown, N. J. She was married James Wells of Phila., Penna., per N. J. license dated Oct. 23, 1750.

John Lovell, Sr. (father of said Rachel) died Int. Administration on his estate being granted to James Wells and John Lovell, Jr., under date of Sept. 28, 1762 (See Vol. 4 of Wills, p. 259). He left one son, John, and from various other wills and documentory surces, there appear to have been 6 daughters, i.e., the said Rachel (wife and widow of James Wells); Anne (widow of Nathaniel Farnsworth in 1749); Rezine (wife and widow of Ephraim Harris, of Fairfield, Cumberland Co.); Patience (wife and widow of Joseph Wright; son of Richard; Joshua Wright, 1st.); a daughter—surname Harker (called sister "Harker" by Patience Wright, in her will dated Feb. 1, 1772; proved June 7, 1786. See N. J. Abstracts of Wills, Vol. 13, p. 376.); and Deborah (called sister "Deborah Ayres," in foregoing will of Rachel Wells).

Amariah Farnsworth and Rachel Farnsworth (the latter the Rachel Jenkins, mentioned in this will) were the children of Nathaniel and Anne (Lovell) Farnsworth. (See Wardship for them, Vol. 4 of Wills p. 140). In other words, Amariah Farnsworth called "cousin" by the testatrix was a "nephew", and Rachel Jenkins, a "niece" of said Rachel Wells. Rachel Jenkins was the wife of Josiah Jenkins of Bordentown, N. J., who died Int. in 1803 (See File 12113C); and she left a will dated June 4, 1809; proved Sept. 8, 1809 (File 12414C.). [The term "spinster" frequently occurs in wills, whereinafter the testator proceeds to name her children and grandchildren; so if we interpret the word "spinster" to mean, a single or unmarried woman, the term sounds very odd. It so happens, however, that the term as here used, or applied, is to designate the woman's occupation; that is to say, "a woman who spins."—a spinster—being thus used in the same manner as a man who calls himself, weaver, cooper, or yeoman. Sarah Woodruff was the widow of Enos Woodruff, and although not mentioned by name in his will, their children are the same. Compiler's Note.]

I. INDEX OF NAMES OF PERSONS
II. INDEX OF PLACE NAMES

Index of Names of Persons

NOTE—The names of testators, intestate persons or wards, printed in heavy type in the preceding text, are not repeated in this Index, as a rule. Where maiden names can be ascertained from the body of the will, they are included.

Where surnames in common use today, or at least with well-known spellings, are unusually or curiously used in the text, the current modern spelling is substituted in this Index, to facilitate reference. An exception is made where proper spelling is uncertain. To a lesser degree the same rule has been applied to Christian names.
